THE HUNT FOR EMMET'S BONES

HA. T. A. EMMET TELLS OF HIS SUMMER EXPLORATION.

He Didn't Find Just Where the Irish Patriot Was Burted, but He Thinks He Got Near It, and He Disproved the Claims Two Marked Graves.

Dr. Thomas Addis Emmet of 89 Madison avenue, who returned a few days ago from Ireland, where he has been conducting a search for the grave of his ancestor, Robert Emmet, the Irish martyr, made public vesterday the result of his three months'

He did not succeed in locating the exact spot where Robert Emmet is buried, but he did dispel several false beliefs in regard to the grave which have been current for more than half a century, and he narrowed the evidence down to a single cemetery in Dublin.

Dr. Emmet brought back a number of valuable documents and records relating to Robert Emmet's trial and events in Irish history, at the beginning of the last Three places were variously credited with holding Robert Emmet's dust before Dr. Emmet began his investigation-St. Peter's Cemetery in Dublin, where the family vault is: St. Michan's, also in Dublin, and Glassnevin Cemetery, several miles out of he city. The last two had stone slabs up marking the spots where the body was supposed to be.

The only thing that Dr. Emmet knew for certain when he started out was that Emmet's body, on the day of the execution, Sept. 20, 1803 was placed in the receiving vault at St. Peter's Everything else in regard to his burial was supposition, but there were strong reasons for believing that the body had been removed from the vault and put into the family vault, in St. Peter's.

Dr. Emmet's first task was to locate the family burial place. That was not easy, for in the 40s Dublin passed an ordinance forbidding the burial of the dead within the city limits, and at the same time had the slabs in St. Peter's taken down, covered the entire cemetery with a six-inch coating of cement and filled the whole place in with dirt.

Dr. Emmet discovered in an old church record that the Emmet yault was on the record that the Emiliet value was on the right of the entrance to the cemetery, near the south wall. After an infinite deal of persusasion he got the relatives of the dead buried in St. Peter's to consent to let him dig. He excavated for fifty feet at the which the old record indicated.

spot which the old record indicated.

He struck a vault, but it was not the Emmet vault. It was the receiving vault In it, besides the remains of two or three bodies, was found a skull wrapped in crepe. Dr. Emmet felt sure for a time that the skull was that of the Irish martyr.

He knew that the elder Petrie had been commissioned after the execution to make the property of Emmet's head, and he thought a cast of Emmet's head, and he thought that the head might have been taken away for that purpose, and returned to the re-ceiving vault when the body had been

An examination of the sutures showed An examination of the sutures showed that the skull belonged to an old man. This circumstance, of course, disproved all theories that it was Emmet's, for he was only twenty-five when he was executed. The remains of the other bodies in the vault furnished evidence that they were put there only a short time before the cemtry was destroyed. Dr. Emmet then began an investigation at St. Michan's. In the grave under the slab bearing Emmet's name the remains of a girl were found, and deeper the bones of a man. The skull of this man also was found to be that of one well advanced in years, and his le; bones showed that he was over six feet tall. Emmet was undersized.

The excavation at Glassnevin failed to

The excavation at Glassnevin failed to eveal any remains whatever in the grave which was supposed to contain Emmet's

Dr. Emmet then transferred his search back to the .t. Peter's cemetery. He discovered that there was formerly an entrance at the back of the cemetery, and he believes he location of the Emmet vault referred t this entrance instead of the one at the

Dr. Emmet did not feel that he could spare the time and the money to continue the excavations in St. Peter's and he rethis country, hoping that some turned to this country, hoping that some-body will take advantage of the data fur-nished by him and make the necessary excavation to find the lost vault. Dr. Emmet discovered further that Robert Emmet's sister, when she died shortly after the execution of her brother, was buried at midnight, and he believes that the Irish patriot was taken out of the receiving yoult and laid away at the same time as his vault and laid away at the same time as his

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 14.—In several respects the $5,000 McDowall, the feature of the card at the Breeders' Association track to day, was one of the most remarkable races ever trotted. As a contest few races have been more bitterly fought, and in point of average time only one or two races in trotting history equal its first five heats. At the close Monte Carlo, Hawthorne and Dr. Strong each had two heats, and, darkness coming ou, the event went over until to-morrow for final decision. One of the heats to the credit of Hawthorne was awarded her by the foul route. Scott Hudson declared that Walker, Monte Carlo's driver, struck the mare and forced her to a break. The fifth and sixth heats were easy for the gray gelding Dr.

Strong. Dan T., the original favorite for the race,

Dan T., the original favorite for the race, was drawn after the second heat on account of lameness. Hawthorne's time in the third heat, 2:06½, is the truck record here for trotting in a race.

The Lexington, a sort of renewal of the two-year-old Kentucky Futurity, and one of the oldest of the classic events of this course, was an easy victory for the favorite, Grace Bond. She trotted for a second heat to a world's record for a two-year-old filly in a race, 2:14½, and this time has been beaten only twice in any heat by a two-year-old filly.

Bald Hornet, a warm favorite won the SEVERE TEST OF AUTOS. Fifty-eight Miles of Bad Roads Before Reaching Youngstown.

Youngsrown, Ohio, Oct. 14 .- Fifty-eight miles of dirt roads, such as make patriots blush, were covered to-day by the automobiles in the New York-Pittsburg contest. Seventeen cars left Cleveland before noon to-day and seventeen had arrived here before sunset. The narrow roads, with frequent hollows and kimps and full of ruts were too poor to permit of any real speed, and for long stretches too narrow for one car to pass another. It was rough on springs, on axles. and every part of the engines. thoroughly severe test but it is said that tomorrow's run will be worse.

Only seventeen of the eighteen cars that left Erie arrived at Cleveland on Tuesday night. No 24 being stalled outside the city by broken bearings. One more derelict, the St. Louis, No. 42, caught up with the leaders last night after a racking drive by leaders last night after a racking drive by E. P. Dorris, the operator. He got the car to Cleveland at 2 o'clock this morning, after having run the car for forty-eight hours without rest, and was lifted out in a condition of complete exhaustion and almost carried to a room. Mr. and Mrs. Riker got to Cleveland shortly after 10 o'clock. J. C. Cowan, with No. 24 fixed up, started for here this morning. Dorris had not left Cleveland at noon.

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD.

COLUMBIA WINS POORLY PLAYED GAME FROM SWARTHMORE.

Holy Cross Scores Twice on Yale by Field Goals and Wesleyan Makes Touch-down Against Harvard—Lehigh Holds Tigers Down-Easy Victory for Quakers

A black eye for Old Eli, the pride of Johnny Harvard again hurt, the warriors of Old Nassau held to a small score and a single touchdown for Columbia were occurrences that helped make yesterday's football games eventful. Columbia's opponent was Swarthmore, while Holy Cross met Yale. Yale won easily enough, but Holy Cross made 10 points Yale finding some slight consolation in the fact that her goal line was not crossed, the goals being kicked from the field. Wesleyan, which Yale defeated 35 to 0, and which Columbia beat 10 to 0, scored a touchdown on Harvard and held the latter to three touch-downs. Princeton's score against Lehigh was smaller by 4 points than Pennsylvania's. Again Pennsylvania's total against Gettysburg yesterday was larger than Princeton's 68 against the same team last Saturday. The scores follow: Harvard, 17: Weslevan, 6.

Yale, 86; Holy Cross, 10. Pennsylvania, 72; Gettysburg, O. Princeton, 12; Lehigh, O. Columbia, 5; Swarthmore, O. Rutgers, S; Manhattan, 6. Annapolis, 18; Gallaudet, O.

COLUMBIA, 5; SWARTEMORE, O. In a football game full of crude play Colum bia beat Swarthmore 5 to 0 at the Polo Grounds yesterday. Not only was there more poor play than good, but the game was slow, penalties were inflicted often and delays were frequent. Coach Morley of Columbia sent in a substitute line in the first half, and it was in this half that Columbia scored. The regulars in the second half were no improvement, and found them-selves fighting in their own territory most of the time. The regular Columbia backs were slow in getting under way, else more finished heads apart as named.

Frank Farrell's Hoodwink, even money favorite in the second event, at a mile and a furlong, never got out of the ruck. J. Jones put up a splendid ride on Nevermore, 7 to 1, who won in a gallop by three lengths in 1:53. The Regent, 12 to 1, in front for nearly a mile, was second, two lengths in front of Cottage Maid, 30 to 1, who beat Outsider a head, with the latter the same distance before Stonewall.

A powerful finish by Tommy Burns enabled McMeekin, second choice, to beat Wild Pirate, the favorite, in the third race, at a mile and a sixteenth, by a neck. E. R. Thomas's Stroller, 6 to 1, was two lengths away, the time being 1:46 4-5.

Faulconbridge, the favorite for the handicap, at a mile and a furlong, was bumped just after the start by Sir Roche and never had a chance afterward. Redfern got Carbundle, 8 to 1, out of s pocket at the head of the stretch and won easily by two lengths in 1:54. Tribes Hill, 5 to 1, beat Mabel Richardson, 8 to 1, by a length and a half.

Dimple got out of the maiden two-year-old class in the last race by deleating Raider, 12 to 1, easily. Mr. Thomas's flily, for whom he paid $20,000, was the only successful favorite. Foxhail keene's Colleen Bawn, 10 to 1, took third money from John Sanford's Fort Plain, 20 to 1, by a nose. The time was 1:14 1-5. Rough Rider went to the post for the third race in such a suspicious condition that the stewards took him in hand, and a veterinary was sent to examine him. A decision may be given to-day. ground would have been made. Fortunately, the general listlessness of the attack was not so noticeable in the defence, and Columbia's goal line was not in serious danger except from drop kicks. A bad fumple lost Columbia a touchdown in the second half, and the Blue and White's handling of punts was execrable in a succes sion of rank muffs. In punting Crowell of Swathmore excelled both Bruce and Bishop of Columbia, and the tackling of the Pennsylvanians was sharper and surer than that of the New Yorkers. A striking instance of Columbia's pervading "rawness" came in the first half, when twice in succession bad passes from the centre for a punt were made, and Columbia lost twenty-five yards by the blunders. In the second half ignorance of the new rules on Swarthmore's part cropped or the new rules on Swarthmore's part cropped out. Crowell on a direct pass from centre ran fifteen yards on a fake kick, but was beyond the 25-yard line at the time. The ball was not handled by three men as required, and Swarthmore was penalized fifteen yards. As offside players the Swarthmore men beat anything ever seen here. However, the most consistent ground gained in the field was by their captain, W. Smith.

Bruce kicked off for Celumbia, and Swarthmore made first down in two rushes, but could not keep it up, and the ball changed hands on downs. Then Columbia is it on downs on Swarthmore's 25-yard line, to crowell punted to Duell on Columbia's 50-yard line, and Duell was promptly vanked to earth by Perkins, Swarthmore having two rattling good ends. It was at this juncture that Columbia's possession on Swarthmore's the true that Columbia's possession on Swarthmore passing. A punt and four downs found the ball in Columbia's possession on Swarthmore being imposed every few yards en route. Three times while Bruce was trying to punt out in front of the goal posts Swarthmore being imposed every few yards en route. Three times while Bruce was trying to punt out in front of the goal posts Swarthmore was offside. The umpire finally had them penalized till they were back against the fence. When Duell did heel the punt-out Bruce missed an easy goal.

The second half brought out a greater variety of tactics, but no scoring. Metzenthin epened by rushing in twenty yards after the kick-off. Then Bishop flew over the lines for thirty-five yards on a fake kick. Metzenthin went ten yards more, but with a touchdown in plain view, there was a fumble, and it was Swarthmore's ball. Crowell punted to Jones on Swarthmore's 30-yard line, and 'after several good line smashes, in which first-class work was momentarily in evidence, the ball was two yards from Swarthmore's goal line. There was a close formation, Duell took the ball, fumbled it, and Swarthmore and the much lauded wat and the much lauded wat and the much lauded wat an Crowell on a direct pass from centre Swarthmore's goal line. There was a close formation, Duell took the ball, fumbled it, and Swarthmore had it.

Crowell punted, and the much lauded Metzenthin made an atrocious muff. A few moments later Columbia was penalized heavily for interference with the full back in catching a punt and again heavily later on for palpable violation of the new rule prohibiting the roughing of a player about to punt.

The closing minutes of play were all in Columbia territory Godale made an end run of fifteen yards, Columbia being fooled by a quarter back kick. One of Crowell's punts went into the water, of which a great deal still remained on the field. Three men went splashing after the leather after Metzenthin's muff, and in the scramble were soaked to the skin. The teams then grappled around the 25-yard line for the remainder of the game, W. Smith and Crowell between them missing three drop kicks for goal.

PRINCETON, 12; LEHIGH, 6.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 14.—Princeton defeated Lehigh this afternoon by a score of 12 to 0. For the most part the Tigers' offensive work was strong, but at a critical point, when they had the ball on Lehigh's 5-yard line, their strength failed them and they lost the ball en Gewns. Except for this instance, the Orange and Black experienced but little difficulty in ploughing through Lehigh's line for good gains. End runs were used much more to-day than in previous games and were effective for the most part. For the second time this season Princeton was penalized twenty yards for sending the quarter back forward with the ball without first running five yards to the side. Lehigh kicked off. After an exchange of punts, Hart and Foulke were sent forward for twenty yards, each in quick succession, until the ball was advanced to Lehigh's 5-yard line.

Here the Tigers fumbled and the visitors got the ball. A. Farabaugh kicked out to McClave at Lehigh's 45-yard line. The Tigers rapidly advanced the pigskin and Foulke ran over for a touchdown. De Witt kicked goal. In the second half De Witt kicked goal. In the second half De Witt kicked goal. In the second half De Witt kicked goal. Princeton lost the ball on a fumble soon after the kick-off and Lehigh carried it outside at Princeton's 15-yard line. A Lehigh player, picking up the ball, started to walk in the required fifteen yards, as the Princeton players supposed, but Instead he kicked the ball forward to another Lehigh man, who ran over the goal line with it for a touchdown. A discussion lasting thirty-five minutes followed, but Referce Young decided that the ball must be brought back and put in play again.

VALE. 38: HOLV CROSS. 10.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 14.—Drops of woe were poured into Yale's cup this afternoon when Holy Cross secured two goals from the field, thereby making the first score against Yale this season and wiping away all possibility of a clean slate for the Blue. The final score was: Yale, 38: Holy Cross, 10. Preston's fumbling was directly responsible for Holy Cross getting her chance to score. The visitors made the best of their opportunity. Each time they got as near the Yale goal as possible and directly in front of it. Under perfect conditions, Reed dropped two placement kicks between the goal posts. More than ever before this season, Yale's weak-YALE, 36; HOLY CROSS, 10.

ness at centre was noticeable. Bloomer was not in the game, because of a bad stomach, and Batchelder took his place. Through Batchelder, Roraback and Morton Holy Cross sent her full back, Stankard. First downs fer the visitors came with discouraging frequency. They never could have crossed Yale's goal line on straight plunges, but their gains were the best made against Yale this fall. The first half gave the visitors fifteen yards on plunges, and in the second they scored over thirty, twenty of which were made at one clip by Stankard, who went through Batchelder. Shevlin was tried successfully at rushing the ball. His gams were consistent, and he proved a hard man to tackle. Flanders was substituted for Morton in the second half and played better than his predecessor. Kenney was taken out with a bad ankle, and Andrews, a freshman, took his place.

Amberst Favorite Over Columbia. Some betting took place in Wall Street yesterday on next Saturday's football game yesterday on next saturday's footoning me between Amherst and Columbia. In the Broad street curb market the betting started on even terms, but later Amherst ruled favorite. Bunnell, Buchanan & Co. placed $300 on Amherst, beginning at evens and increasing the odds to 5 to 4 in favor of the Massachusetts team. At the close of the day the firm was offering to bet 5 to 4% on Amherst.

FITZ FAILS TO STOP GRIM. Italian Middleweight Makes Good Showing Against Cornishman.

PHILADELP. IA, Oct. 14.—Joe Grim, an Italian middleweight, is a much talked of pugilist in this city to-night, owing to the fact that Bob Fitzsimmons was unable to knock him out in a six-round bout. The two met before the Southern A. C. in the presence of a very large crowd. When the fight began there were at least 5,000 sports in the building. and over 2,000 more were turned away unable to gain admission. Grim has only been fighting for a few years, but he has met the best in and out of his class. Joe Walcott, Jack HARVARD, 17; WESLEYAN, 6.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 14.—Harvard was again scored on in football this afternoon, but this time she managed to win, 17 to 6.) In the last five minutes of play Goodman, right end of the Wesleyan team, gathered in the ball on Harvard's 20-yard line after Nesmith had fumbled Rogers's kick and ran for a touchdown. Nesmith, who made the fumble, was sent to the side lines at once for his offence. Harvard's playing to-day was much better than it has been for two weeks, but Wesleyan's score resulted from the same weakness that lost the Amherst game. Harvard has not a set of competent substitutes to replace the first string men. Capt. Marshall was in the game for the first time in two weeks, and his presence was very evident. He got more life, dash and fight into the team and all worked better together. Nichols played at left half back until he was taken out because of an injury to his ankle. The Harvard line helped the backs considerably dragging the runners along. The Wesleyan team, it is said, was weaker on Solders' Field than at fale Field, as the faculty has taken several men off the team.

Taylor O'Brien, George Cole, Peter Maher and Charlie McKeever tried to do what Fitz failed to eccomplish to-night and were also unsuccessful. In his fight with Fitzsimmons Grim made a good showing. Although badly punished and floored at least nine times he was up and doing at the bell.

Grim was the first to take his corner. He is only a middleweight; and had the worst of the weight by at least fifteen pounds. Fitz did weight by at least fifteen pounds. Fitz did all the work, and after delivering a couple of punches he made Grim sprint. In the second round Fitz went after Grim in earnest. He smashed the Philadelphian with a left to the wind and knocked him down. Grim was up quickly and mixed it up as though his life depended on the result. Fitz tried for a knockout in the third, but Grim eluded him cleverly. Fitz was fighting hard and sent Grim down for the count with a right on the chin. Grim arose very tired and bleeding from the nose.

Fitz was all over Grim in the fourth. He rained blow after blow and soon had Grim groggy. One solid punch on the face dropped Grim. Twice more Grim was capsized in this round, but Lanky Bob could not get home a finishing blow. Bob was nettled in the fifth and sailed in for all he was worth. He knocked Grim down twice in succession, but the irrepressible Quaker was up smartly ready to resume hostilities. Just at the bell Grim was floored again with a right under the heart.

The final round was exciting. The crowd began to guy Fitz and this angered him. He punched away at Grim as if he were fighting for the championship of the world. Grim was active and came back with a hard right swing, which almost put Fitz to the boards. A second later Fitz swung a hard right and dropped Grim for another count. Grim when he regained his equilibrium forced matters and was fighting hard when the bell sounded.

PENNSYLVANIA, 72; GETTYSBURG, 0.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—The Gettysburg eleven went down to the tune of 72 to 0 in their game with Pennsylvania this afternoon. Pennsylvania's playing, in spite of this big score, was decidedly off color in the first half, and it was not until Coach Williams had made several substitutions, combined with a severe lecture, that the team played anything like its usual game. The Pennsylvanians outweighed their opponents between twenty and thirty pounds to the man and in the first half only scored 30 points. In the second, however, they got things moving at a lively rate rolling up seven touchdowns and kicking all the goals in twenty minutes of playing.

In the first half Tufts lost the ball on a fumble on Andover's 40-yard line and the academy team worked the ball down the field until Thompson made a touchdown. In the second half Andover worked the ball to the middle of the field, and then Humbird reeled off twenty yards. Quarter Back Dillon then took the ball for the remaining thirty-five yards and a touchdown. The academy team held for downs on Tufts' 35-yard line after the next kick off and rushed to the 20-yard line. Cummings then kicked a goal from the field. Tufts took a brace and by hard line plunging carried the ball along for a touchdown.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 14.—The midshipmen ran up 18 points against Gallaudet College, the deaf mute team, this afternoon and prevented the visitors from scoring. The weather was so warm that the players suffered severely and the game was stopped a little before the agreed time in order to allow the visitors to catch a train. Gallaudet carried the ball on end plays well at times and tackled flereely and cleanly, but they were not up to the standard of the midshipmen in playing ability and were considerably outweighed. Nevertheless, the navy boys had to play hard all the time to make any headway.
